THE MARTIN SURNAME

The Martin surname is found in early America. Martins were early settlers of Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Hampshire and Virginia. Down through the years the spelling of the name varies even in the same families. Martin, Martyn, Marten, Marttin, Marteen, Martain, Martine, Marteau, de la Martine and St. Martin. Martins came to America from Scotland, Wales, Ireland, France, Germany and many other countries. So, your Martins could have any origin.

Many Martins in early Virginia were of gentle birth, but the majority of the Martins in this country were descended from farmers from Europe and the British Isles.

There are 240 persons listed in the Daughters of the American Revolution Patriot Index with the surname of Martin. Some of these people were descended from Martins who had been in America since about 1650.

No one really knows exactly where the name Martin began. It may have come from the Latin word which meant "warlike." Or, it may have come from St. Martin or Martin de Tours. The name Martin appeared on the rolls of Battle Abbey about the 4th of October A. D. 1066. More than one knight is recorded in the roll of Battle Abbey with the Martin surname. The roll includes the names of men who followed William the Conqueror's banner. The Abbey was dedicated to St. Martin who was born at Sabaria, Hungary ca. A. D. 316. The St. Martin Festival is every November 11 and was begun by Pope Martin ca. A. D. 650. The new wines are tapped on this day.

Whether your Martins came from France, England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, Spain, Mexico, Germany or any other country it is a name of which you should be proud.

A Register of Subscribers with each person's chief counties of interest will be published in the quarterly this year. Also included will be your Revolutionary Soldiers and your oldest known ancestor. Send yours in now.

The name of John Martin's home was "Rock House." It was begun in

CAPTAIN WILLIAM PETERS MARTIN (1742-1809)
REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIER

(The following sketch was taken from FAMILY HISTORY INCLUDING - HUGHES, DALTON, MARTIN, HENDERSON, All Originally of Virginia AND MANY KINDRED BRANCHES. This book was written by LUCY HENDERSON HORTON and published in Franklin, Tennessee in 1922. The book was left to me by Mrs. Kittie Lea Allgood Weatherly and Mrs. Blanche Allgood Chesnut of Tampa, Florida)

William Martin, son of Joseph Martin and his wife, Susanna Chiles, was born in Albemarle County, Virginia in 1742. He died in Stokes County, North Carolina in 1809. William Martin was reared in that part of Pittsylvania county which was cut off and made Patrick and Henry counties. He married Rachel Dalton, daughter of Samuel Dalton, of Mayo River, Rockingham County, North Carolina. This home is about ten miles from Hughesville. Captain Martin is buried at Hughesville in the old family burying ground in Patrick County, Virginia. Rachel Dalton lived to be quite old. She was born in 1746 and died in Stokes County in 1836.

Pittsylvania County, Virginia had been cut off from Halifax County in 1767 and named in honor of the great English statesman, William Pitt, the friend of the American colonies. Captain Martin's postoffice was "Penn's Store." Here he had settled some of the families of William Penn. This Penn family intermarried extensively with the Martin and Hughes families. Some of the Penns later settled in Danville, Virginia and engaged in the tobacco business.

Before the opening of the Revolutionary War, William Martin was county lieutenant. In looking over old Pittsylvania records, we find in the appointment of officers, by the Committee of Safety, on Wednesday, the twenty-seventh of September, 1775, many family names. Some of the captains appointed at this time were this man, William Peters Martin, and his brother, Joseph Martin, who was later General; and Archelaus Hughes, who was later colonel of a Virginia regiment. Colonel Hughes and Captain Martin had married sisters. Jonathan Hanby, who married another of the Dalton sisters, was also made captain on this day. We see that Captain John Dillard, another family connection, in the Spring of 1778, marched with his company to the frontier. All of the Pittsylvania militia was ordered to the assistance of General Nathaniel Greene after General Gates' defeat at Camden, when Greene was given command of the Southern army. In Henry County is preserved the original "General Order," issued March, 1781, ordering them to the assistance of General Greene. The Pittsylvania men took part in the Battle of Guiford Court House. This included, Captain William Martin and his company. In the Summer of 1781, after Cornwallis had entrenched himself behind the fortifications at Yorktown, the Governor of Virginia ordered the militia of the various counties to the siege of York. The following item from the Claim Records tells us of the Pittslvania order: "To Richard Todd, Riding Express, for giving the militia officers notice and finding himself four days in consequence of his Excellency, the Governor's order, to order one-fourth of the militia to the siege of York" (see pages 255, 256, 257, 258 and 259 of the American Monthly Magazine of the Daughters of the American Revolution for June, 1912. Here quotation is made from original county records).

Thus we see that Captain William Martin bore his part in the Revo ary struggle. Another evidence of his service is the fact that h grant of land from North Carolina at the close of the Continental His family had moved to North Carolina during the war. North Car at the close of the war, made grants of land to her soldiers in p for gallant service in time of battle. William Martin received a of 1,280 acres of land. This land was in Tennessee, which was th part of North Carolina, being in what is now Wilson County (see p 841, Goodspeed History of Tennessee).

Samuel Dalton (1699-1802), of Mayo, the father of Rachel Dalton M we are told in the old family chronicle written by Dr. Robert Hun Dalton and filed in the Archives of the Missouri Historical Socie
"was the wealthiest man in all the Piedmont region, both of Virgi and North Carolina." William Martin himself was a man of wealth.

After Martin had gone to war, this family moved to Stokes County, Carolina, upon inherited land estate in order to be near Colonel Martin, his brother, of Rock House.

Captain William Martin was a man of culture and refinement, being given to studious habits. After the close of the Revolutionary W became a minister of the gospel. His wife had all the advantages the period in which she lived. The Dalton sisters all married so of the Revolution. Mary Dalton married Colonel Archelaus Hughes, tilda Dalton married Captain Jonathan Hanby, who is spoken of in as "Francis Marion's right hand," and another sister was the wife Major Joseph Winston, hero of King's Mountain.

In Stokes County, North Carolina, Captain William Martin and his were near his brother, Colonel Jack Martin of Rock House. They w also near the home of Major Joseph Winston. The wives of Captain and Major Winston were sisters. Many others who lived in this se at that time made history illustrious. Thus we see that the soci mosphere of the homes was desirable.

We can learn something of the mother of Captain and Reverend Will Martin in Volume 8, Virginia Magazine of History and Biography.
is copied a sketch of William Martin's brother, General Joseph Ma This sketch was written by Lyman C. Draper in 1842. The original this sketch may be found in the Draper Manuscripts in the Wiscons State Library. The sketch was written by Colonel William Martin, Dixon Springs, Tennessee, a son of General Joseph Martin. He say
"My grandmother, that is Susanna (Chiles) Martin, was one of the of womankind--her parents of English descent. They raised a larg family of children, all highly respectable and from whom has desc an immense offspring, as the Waller, Carr, Lewis, Marks, Overton, Terry, Chiles families, etc., now spread mostly through the South West.

Captain and Reverend William Peters Martin and his wife Rachel Da were the parents of nine children as follows:

DAVID SPRINGER MARTIN

The following poem was written by William Joseph Martin, 10127 Cresto Drive, Dallas, Texas 75229 for his father David Springer Martin (1896 1967) of Valley View, Texas. Mr. W. J. Martin is the great-great-gre grandson of Revolutionary Soldier Adam Martin who married Mary McMill

He knew the world because he had been bitten by it. A world that giv and taketh away.

A world filled with complexities and contraditions with an intermingling of good and bad, of virtue and vice.

Yet, if life has any single purpose it is the simplicity of faith and being aware of your fellow man. He had this.....

A deep curiosity and the energy to pursue an intention.....He had th

A plateau that all free men aspire; proud dignity; to be ones own ma He was this.....

His name was legion, but reflected a welding patriotism. This he pe formed.

Through a miriad of adversities and fates pitfalls.....He held his o lot.....

Completeness, promptness, excellence.....This he demanded.....

A sometimes gruff exterior resulted from a fire of pain, but beneath this penetrable armor resided an immense love of family, tenderness and understanding.

A rare man; of unique individuality has slipped into the sea of eter nity.

Anastasia and Madison Martin

ANASTASIA PIERRE MARTIN
(1812 - 1903)

AN OBITUARY WHICH APPEARED IN A MARIES COUNTY, MISSOURI PAPER. CLIPPING FOUND BY THE EDITOR IN THE BIBLE OF JOSEPH ELISHA MARTIN, VALLEY VIEW, TEXAS, ONE OF HER SONS. Copied exactly as originally printed.

DIED

At the residence of her son, C. N. Martin, February 7, 1903, Anastasia, wife of M. G. Martin, at the age of 90 years, 3 months and 5 days, having been born November 2nd, 1812. Her husband died at the same place May 9, 1894, having lived with their son Charles since 1891. Anastasia was the daughter of Jacquies and Teresa Perry, and was born and raised in Florisant Valley, St. Louis county. Her mother's maiden name was Marshal, also born in Florisant, Missouri, in 1794, being a lineal descendant of the first French settlers of St. Genevieve, St. Louis, Florisant, and St. Charles, and was married to Perry in the year 1811 at St. Louis. She was the mother of ten children, Anastasia being the oldest. She was married in 1835 and was the mother of nine children --Mary, Charles, Teresa, Sarah, David, Allen, George, Joseph, Amanda. The youngest is 47 years old and all are living except Teresa. Six of them--three sons and three daughters--moved and settled in the state of Texas some thirty years ago, all engaged in farming, owning their own farms, married, contented and prosperous. David is practicing medicine near Mountain Home, Arkansas.

Out of all of their children and great retinue of grandchildren and greatgrandchildren, Charles and his devoted wife and children and grandchildren were all of her kin that were there to fight the grim monster, and that, too, without avail. The end came peaceful with many devoted friends and neighbors around her. She is at rest.

A DEVOTED FRIEND

HOW TO FIND YOUR MARTINS

The Quarterly will help you find your ancestors if you contribute and exchange letters with others looking for their ancestors. I have fou many cousins while exchanging letters with strangers who live all ove the United States.

Everyone should be able to find that missing link or elusive ancestor if they work hard enough. And, it doesn't cost any more than a littl time and stamps. It is just a matter of how bad you want to get the answers.

If you are working on more than one family and they are in separate states I suggest you subscribe to the Genealogical Helper. If you ha families in one state or one particular area find out who publishes a quarterly for that area - there will probably be one. For instance, you are searching for families in Georgia, "Family Puzzlers" is a mus "Puzzlers" almost always specializes in Georgia and North Carolina, e If Texas is your interest subscribe to "Stirpes." Almost every local ity has something to help you. Visit your public library to get the addresses or write to "Martin Family Quarterly."

If your interest is in the Martin surname I hope you will find some o your answers here. If everyone contributes and exchanges information you will learn more about your ancestors. Please share your Martin bible records. Contribute now.

Write to anyone you think might have information to exchange in the state you have interest. It will pay off. That letter you put off writing this year may come back next year. The wonderful people who can answer those questions you have may not be there to answer later. Don't wait because if you do you will be sorry. Every year you wait makes it harder to uncover the facts.

Visit your public library. You would be surprised how much they can help you. If you don't have a Genealogy Section in your city encoura them to shart one. It will save you thousands of dollars in your research.

If you have a Genealogical problem. Let us know. We will try to help.
